CONTENTS

NUMBER 1, MAY, 1941

Histamine Tolerance and Anaphylactic Death in Sensitized Guinea-Pigs. Elizabeth Smith Karady.....	1
Immunological Studies of Pollinosis. II. Passive Sensitization of Man through Transfusion. Mary Hewitt Loveless.....	15
Studies of Hemolytic Streptococcal Antibodies in Control Groups, Rheumatic Fever Arthritis. I. The Incidence of Antistreptolysin "O", Antifibrinolysin, and Hemolytic Streptococcal Precipitating Antibodies in the Sera of Urban Control Groups. John R. Mote and T. Duckett Jones..	35
Studies of Hemolytic Streptococcal Antibodies in Control Groups, Rheumatic Fever, and Rheumatoid Arthritis. II. The Frequency of Antistreptolysin "O", Antifibrinolysin, and Precipitating-Antibody Responses in Scarlet Fever, Hemolytic Streptococcal Infections, and Rheumatic Fever. John R. Mote and T. Duckett Jones.....	61
Studies of Hemolytic Streptococcal Antibodies in Control Groups, Rheumatic Fever, and Rheumatoid Arthritis. III. The magnitude of Antistreptolysin "O", Antifibrinolysin, and Precipitating-Antibody Responses; the Persistence of the Antibodies, and Variations in Antistreptolysin "O" Curves in Scarlet Fever, Hemolytic Streptococcal Infections, and Rheumatic Fever. John R. Mote and T. Duckett Jones..	87
The Potency of Staphylococcal Toxoid. L. N. Farrell.....	119

NUMBER 2, JUNE, 1941

Studies in Contact-Dermatitis. IV. The Spontaneous Flare-up of Negative Test-Sites in Experimental Sensitization in Man. Max Grolnick.....	127
A study of the Antigenicity of Proteoses. Arthur Stull and Stanley F. Hampton.....	143
Immunologic Properties of an Antigenic Material Isolated from Eberthella typhosa . Herbert R. Morgan.....	161
Subdivisions of Group A and Group AB. II. Isoimmunization of A ₂ Individuals Against A ₁ Blood; with Special Reference to the Rôle of the Subgroups in Transfusion Reactions. Alexander S. Wiener.....	181
Antigenic Differentiation among Strains of Paramecium aurelia . Alan W. Bernheimer and James A. Harrison.....	201
Electrophoretic and Ultracentrifugal Analyses of Antipneumococcal Horse Sera. J. van der Scheer, J. B. Lagsdin and Ralph W. G. Wyckoff....	209
The Effects of Enzymes on Ragweed-Pollen and Studies on the Iso-Electric Point of Low-Ragweed Antigen. George E. Rockwell.....	225
The Detoxification of Staphylococcal Toxin by Adsorption on Organic Liquids. J. M. Jolin and R. H. Rigdon.....	233
Studies on Measles. II. Experimental Disease in Man and Monkey. Morris F. Shaffer, Geoffrey Rake, Joseph Stokes, Jr., and Gerald C. O'Neil....	241

NUMBER 3, JULY, 1941

Acquired Adaptation to the Anesthetic Effect of Steroid Hormones. Hans Selye.....	259
Neutralization of Vaccine Virus by Immune Serum. Titration by Means of Intracerebral Inoculation of Mice. L. H. Bronson and R. F. Parker....	269
Extension of the Separation of Types among the Pneumococci: Description of 17 Types in Addition to Types 1 to 32 (Cooper). With Recommendations for Terminology of All Types Reported through 1940. Annabel W. Walter, Virginia H. Gulvin, Marian W. Beattie, Hannah Y. Cotler and Helen B. Bucca.....	279
Studies of Passive Auto-Sensitization and Desensitization. Two New Phenomena. Oscar Swineford, Jr. and W. Roy Mason, Jr.....	295
The Absolute Rate of the Phage-Antiphage Reaction. A. D. Hershey.....	299
Optical Study of the Reaction between Transferred Monolayers of Lancefield's "M" Substance and Various Antisera. J. B. Bateman, H. E. Calkins and L. A. Chambers.....	321
A Comparison of Antibody Production by Rabbits following Injection of Pneumococcus Vaccines Heated at 60° or Autoclaved. Ernest G. Stillman.....	343
An Electrophoretic Examination of Digested Sera. J. van der Scheer, Ralph W. G. Wyckoff and F. H. Clarke.....	349
The Leucopenic Action of Different Microorganisms and the Antileucopenic Immunity. L. Olitzki, Sh. Avinery and J. Bendersky.....	361

NUMBER 4, AUGUST, 1941

The Immunochemistry of Allergens. I. Anaphylactogenic Properties of a Proteic Component of Cottonseed. E. J. Coulson, Joseph R. Spies and Henry Stevens.....	375
Strain-Specificity of Complement-Fixation with Sera of Mice Immune to the Virus of Influenza A and Swine Influenza. Monroe D. Eaton.....	383
The Antigenicity of Chick Embryo. J. van der Scheer, Ralph W. G. Wyckoff and E. Bohnel.....	391
The Iso-Antigenic Properties of Alcoholic Extracts of Brain. Julian H. Lewis.....	397
Studies on the Release of Histamine from the Blood Cells of the Rabbit by the Addition of Horse Serum or Egg Albumin in Vitro. Bram Rose and J. S. L. Browne.....	403
Effect of Histaminase Pretreatment on Histamine Shock in Guinea Pigs. Bram Rose and J. S. L. Browne.....	409
Quantitative Studies on the Group-Specific Substances in Human Blood and Saliva. I. Group-Specific Substance B. Alexander S. Wiener and Isidore Kosofsky.....	413
Immunity in Scarlet Fever. The Dick Reaction, the Circulating Antitoxin and the Immunizing Dose. Betty S. Kolchin and Irving F. Klein....	429
Chemo-Therapeutic and Immuno-Therapeutic Testing of Eberthella Typhosa in the Developing Chick Embryo. A. J. Weil and L. S. Gall.....	445
Passive Immunization Against Experimental Infection of Mice with Influenza A Virus: Comparative Effect of Immune Serum Administered Intranasally and Intraabdominally. R. M. Taylor.....	453
Index.....	463
