In “Adjuvanticity of Synthetic Polynucleotides for Induction of Experimental Allergic Encephalomyelitis in Guinea Pigs” by Philip Y. Paterson and Diane G. Drobish in the December, 1974, issue of the Journal of Immunology, Volume 113, Number 6, page 1945, lines 3, 4, and 5 of the final paragraph should read: “disease of animals and man is under vigorous investigation in many laboratories. Many studies suggest that multiple sclerosis, for which . . . ”

In “Allergens of Mammalian Origins. III. Properties of a Major Feline Allergen” by John L. Ohman, Jr., Francis C. Lowell, and Kurt J. Bloch in the December 1973 issue of the Journal of Immunology, Volume 113, Number 6, page 1673, the precipitin line in the middle portion of Figure 3 was omitted. Figure 3 is correctly reproduced below.
