Course Director: Marc K. Jenkins, Ph.D., University of Minnesota

This intensive course is designed for serious students of immunology. Leading experts will present recent advances in understanding the biology of the immune system and its role in health and disease. This course is directed toward advanced trainees and scientists who wish to expand or update their understanding of the field. This is not a survey course and requires that attendees have a firm understanding of the principles of immunology. 43 Continuing Medical Education (CME) Category I credits are offered.* Minority Access to Research Careers (MARC) travel awards are available to US citizens and permanent residents.

Application Deadline: Monday, January 15, 2007

AAI-Huang Foundation Trainee Achievement Award

Established in 1997 through an endowment from the Huang Foundation, this award offers promising trainees in the field of immunology a $1,000 cash prize and support for travel to the AAI Annual Meeting. Selection is based on career promise and presentation of an outstanding first-author abstract at the meeting.

AAI Junior Faculty Travel Award

This award offers a $500 cash prize to young investigators based on career promise and submission of a first-author abstract to the AAI Annual Meeting. AAI members and nonmembers are eligible.

AAI Minority Scientist Travel Award

The AAI Minority Scientist Travel Awards are funded by a grant from the National Institute of General Medical Sciences, National Institutes of Health through the FASEB MARC Program. This program provides eligible mentors, trainees, and/or junior faculty members with advance registration and travel support for the AAI Annual Meeting. Two types of awards -- Faculty Mentor and Minority Trainee Travel Award, and Minority Trainee or Junior Faculty Travel Award -- are available, with separate eligibility requirements. Awardees must attend an award ceremony at the meeting.

Cynthia Chambers Memorial-eBioscience Junior Faculty Award

To honor the memory of Dr. Cynthia Chambers, AAI, in partnership with eBioscience, Inc., established this award in 2005 to advance the careers of junior scientists who attend the AAI Annual Meeting to present immunology research, specifically in the area of cancer biology. The recipient will receive a $1,000 cash award. Selection is based on the submission of an original first-author abstract for presentation (oral or poster) at the AAI Annual Meeting. The awardee will be recognized and presented with a certificate during an awards ceremony at the meeting and must attend the awards ceremony to receive the award.

Pfizer-Showell Travel Award

Established in 1999 through an endowment from Henry J. Showell and Pfizer, Inc., this award recognizes the professional promise of an early career investigator (assistant professor or equivalent) by assisting the awardee with travel to the Annual Meeting to present immunology research. Selection is based on career progress and submission of an outstanding abstract selected for oral presentation at the meeting.
