AAI Lifetime Achievement Award

In recognition of distinguished scientific accomplishment and extraordinary service to AAI

Steven J. Burakoff, M.D.
The Tisch Cancer Institute, Mount Sinai Medical Center

Dr. Burakoff’s illustrious career has embodied the accomplishments in science and service that the AAI Lifetime Achievement Award honors. In service to the immunology community as an oncologist, research scientist, and administrator, he has dedicated a lifetime to defining the field of T cell biology and unmasking its signaling pathways while inspiring over 50 pre- and post-doctoral trainees. In roles ranging from department chair to cancer institute director, he has proven to be not only a producer of consistently great science but also a gifted administrator. Dr. Burakoff’s enduring contributions extend well beyond his own professional arena through his long and valued service on the AAI Council (as Secretary-Treasurer), Finance Committee (including as Chair), Publications Committee, and The Journal of Immunology (The JI) editorial board.

AAI Excellence in Mentoring Award

In recognition of exemplary career contributions to a future generation of scientists

David Baltimore, Ph.D.
California Institute of Technology

Dr. Baltimore’s scientific contributions rank among the most important in biomedical science. He has made an equally lasting imprint on the field as an inspiring role model and mentor to more than 200 trainees. His extraordinarily creative and rigorous approach to basic science, as well as his remarkable personal integrity and deep sense of responsibility to the greater scientific community, have had a transformative influence on the careers of his trainees.

AAI Invitrogen Meritorious Career Award

For outstanding research contributions to the field of immunology

Michael J. Bevan, Ph.D.
HHMI, University of Washington

Dr. Bevan has defined many of the basic tenets of T cell immunology during the course of his distinguished career. Beginning in the 1970s, Dr. Bevan published a series of groundbreaking findings widely validated over time. His observations have led to the discovery of antigen cross-priming, positive selection of T lymphocytes through self-MHC, and the illumination of how effective CD8 T cell memory responses are generated. Many strategies underlying immunotherapy and cancer-vaccine development are based on Dr. Bevan’s research.

AAI Invitrogen Meritorious Career Award

For significant and sustained achievement in immunology research pertinent to human disease pathogenesis, prevention, and therapy

Jacques Banchereau, Ph.D.
Baylor Institute for Immunology Research

This award recognizes Dr. Banchereau both for his pioneering work on human B cells and dendritic cells, and for his significant contributions to the understanding and therapeutic modulation of human disease. His establishment of the Baylor Institute for Immunology Research has fostered intense collaboration and complementation between basic scientists and clinicians representing expertise in cancer, autoimmunity, infectious diseases, and transplantation, yielding significant progress in translational research.

AAI-Dana Foundation Award in Human Immunology Research

For outstanding, early-career research contributions to the field of immunology

Chen Dong, Ph.D.
The University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center

Dr. Dong has made a host of important contributions to the competitive fields of costimulation and peripheral T cell differentiation, most recently in the description of the inflammatory Th17 cell subset. This award recognizes Dr. Dong, already a leader in his field at an early stage of his career, for both his impressive accomplishments to date and for his clear promise of continued success in the future.

IMMUNOLOGY 2009™
The 96th AAI Annual Meeting
May 8-12, 2009—Seattle, Washington
Don’t miss the most comprehensive introduction to immunology available!

This intensive two-part course taught by world-renowned immunologists provides a comprehensive overview of the basics of immunology. This course is for students new to the discipline or those seeking more information to complement general biology or science training.

Part I (June 19-22) is a comprehensive introduction to the basic principles of immunology and is suitable for students with a general biology background. Part II (June 22-25) is a clinically oriented lecture course focusing on specialty areas. Parts I and II may be taken independently at the discretion of the student. Registration Deadline: June 5, 2009.

Faculty

- Ulrich H. von Andrian, Harvard Medical School
  Keynote Lecture: Introduction to the Anatomy of the Immune System

- Terri M. Laufer, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine
  Welcome and Introduction to the Immune System: Introduction to the MHC

- Kathleen E. Sullivan, Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia
  Introduction to Innate Immunity

- Judith A. Owen, Haverford College
  Introduction to Adaptive Immunity

- John G. Monroe, Genentech, Inc.
  VDJ Recombination

- David Allman, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine
  Introduction to B cell Development

- Laurence C. Eisenlohr, Jefferson Medical College
  Antigen Processing and Presentation

- Jennifer A. Punt, Haverford College
  Introduction to T cell Development

- Gary A. Koretzky, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine
  Signaling in the Immune System

- Gwendalyn J. Randolph, Mount Sinai School of Medicine
  Dendritic Cells

- Michael P. Cancro, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine
  Lymphocyte Homeostasis

- Marc K. Jenkins, University of Minnesota, Center for Immunology
  The Primary Immune Response: Putting the Pieces Back Together

- Andrew J. Caton, The Wistar Institute
  T and B cell Tolerance

- Christopher A Hunter, University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine
  Cytokines

- Cathryn Nagler, University of Chicago
  Introduction to Mucosal Immunology

- Antony Rosen, Johns Hopkins School of Medicine
  Autoimmunity

- Joel D. Ernst, New York University School of Medicine
  Immunity to Bacterial Infections

- David Artis, University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine
  Immunity to Helminth Parasites

- E. John Wherry, The Wistar Institute
  Immunologic Memory to Intracellular Pathogens

- David B. Weiner, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine
  Immunization Against Viral Diseases

- Marsha Wills-Karp, Cincinnati Children’s Hospital Medical Center
  Introduction to Asthma and Allergy

- Wayne W. Hancock, Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia
  Transplantation

- Jordan S. Orange, Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia
  Primary Immunodeficiencies

- Robert H. Vonderheide, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine
  Tumor Immunology

- Carl H. June, University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine

Don’t miss the AAI Advanced Course in Immunology! Register Now! Space is Limited!

This intensive course is directed toward advanced trainees and scientists who wish to expand or update their understanding of the field. Leading experts will present recent advances in the biology of the immune system and address its role in health and disease. This is not an introductory course and attendees will need to have a firm understanding of the principles of immunology. Registration Deadline: June 30, 2009.
