CONTENTS

NUMBER 1, JANUARY, 1947

A Study of the Reliability of Complement Fixation as a Method of Measuring the Activities of Sera of High, Medium, and Low Antibody Titer. Christine E. Rice .......................................................... 1

Quantitative Estimation of O Agglutinins in Typhoid Sera. J. Gurevitch and E. Ephrati .............................................................. 37

The Preparation and Properties of a Purified Equine Encephalomyelitis Vaccine. Raymond Randall, John W. Mills and Lewis L. Engel .................. 41

Observations upon the Specificity of the Complement Fixation Test for Lymphogranuloma Venereum. Anna Dean Dulaney and Henry Packer ....... 53

The Virus of Ilhéus Encephalitis. Isolation, Serological Specificity and Transmission. Hugo W. Laemmert, Jr., and Thomas P. Hughes .................. 61

Purification and Characters of the Newcastle Disease Virus (California Strain). Ramon Cunha, M. L. Weil, Dorothy Beard, A. R. Taylor, D. G. Sharp and J. W. Beard .......................................................... 69

A Simple Lyophilizing Apparatus for Laboratory Use. Robert J. Heckly ........... 91

Preparation of Suspensions of Rickettsiae from Infected Yolk Sacs without the Use of Ether. Charles C. Shepard and Norman H. Topping .................... 97

NUMBER 2, FEBRUARY, 1947

The Complement Fixation Test in Yellow Fever Epidemiology. The Use of Globulin Antigen in Immunity Surveys. Alina Perlowagora and Thomas P. Hughes ..... 103

Further Experimental Studies on the Role of the Plasma Cells as Antibody Producers. M. Bjørneboe, H. Gormsen and Fr. Lundquist ..................... 121

A Specific Antigen Recovered from Tissue Infected with M. paratuberculosis (Johne's Bacillus). III. Further Studies on the Nature of the Antigen and on Methods for Demasking It. Björn Sigurdsson ............................................. 131

The Transition Forms of Blood Groups. Ludwik Hirszfeld ................................ 141

The Antigenic Specificity of Syphilitic Antibody Globulin. Sverre Dick Henriksen .... 153

The Relationship of Sulfhydryl and Disulfide Groups to the Antigenic Power of Bovine Serum Albumin. Robert R. Williams ............................... 161

Complement and Opsonic Activities of Fresh Human Sera. E. E. Ecker and G. Lopez-Castro ............................................................. 169

Detoxification of Crystalline Botulinum Type A Toxin. G. A. Hotte and A. Abrams .......................................................... 183

Further Study of the Quantitative Complement-Fixation Test as Applied to the Serum Diagnosis of Typhus Fever. Florence M. Varley and Frederick R. Weedon .......... 189

Specific Complement-Fixing Diagnostic Antigens for Neurotropic Viral Diseases. Carl J. DeBoer and Herald R. Cox ........................................ 193

NUMBER 3, MARCH, 1947

The Effect of Heat upon Antihemocyanin. Edna M. Follensby and Sanford B. Hooker .......................... 205

Immunization of Humans and Animals with Gas Gangrene Toxoids. Alfred A. Tytell, Milan A. Logan, Alice G. Tytell and Jack Tepper ......................... 233

iii
A Comparative Study of Pathogenicity and Antigenicity of Four Strains of Herpes Simplex. Alfred L. Florman and Frederick W. Trader .......................... 263
The Clinical Behavior, Incubation Period, and Pathology of Tetanus Induced in White Swiss Mice by Injection of Crystalline Tetanal Toxin. Louis Pillemer and William B. Wartman ................................................................. 277
Effect of Tris(Beta-Chloroethyl)amine on Antibody-Production in Goats. Frederick S. Philips, Frances H. Hopkins and Marion L. H. Freeman ..................... 289
Immunological Relationship of Mammary Carcinomas Developing Spontaneously in Female Mice of a High-Tumor Line. Ludwik Gross ................................................. 297

NUMBER 4, APRIL, 1947
The Quantitative Estimation of Egg and Chicken Proteins in Equine Encephalomyelitis Vaccines. Lewis L. Engel and Raymond Randall ...................... 325
Some Relations between Equine Encephalomyelitis Virus (Eastern Type) and Normal Host Cellular Constituents. Lewis L. Engel and Raymond Randall .... 331
A Quantitative Study of the Arthus Phenomenon Induced Passively in the Rabbit. Edward E. Fischel and Elvin A. Kabat ......................................................... 337
The Effect of Metabolites, Metabolite Antagonists and Enzyme-Inhibitors on the Growth of the Vaccinia Virus in Maitland Type of Tissue Cultures. Randall L. Thompson ................................................................. 345
Complement-fixing Antibodies of Lymphogranuloma Venereum in Mice: Their Development and Response to Sulfonamide Therapy. Margaret J. Wall ............ 353
Dysentery. A Progress Report for the Years 1942 to 1946. A. J. Weil .............. 363
Index .............................................................................. 407
